National Guard to Begin Drive for RC Enlistments

Opening shots in the organization of a National Guard battery in Redwood City will be fired at the American Legion picnic Sunday at its El Camino Real site.

The Guard, which seeks 120 men and five officers to form a local group—now that an armory site has been approved by the city council—plans to send delegates to the picnic to enlist the active support of the legion.

The event will usher in National Guard Week which has been proclaimed by Mayor W. W. Hilton for the period of Oct. 16 to 23.

Window displays will appear in downtown stores next Monday to show the plans of the National Guard, and a radio address is scheduled next Wednesday by Col. Walter Shoaff urging enlistments by local men.

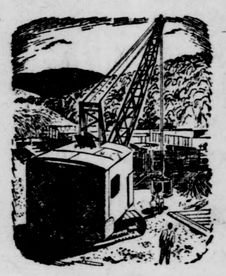
An assembly is scheduled next Thursday afternoon at Sequoia High School at which time the students will hear the functions of the Guard and will be given the opportunity to join.

A booth will be set up on Broadway, and one will be placed at the high school during National Guard Week in an effort to obtain the minimum number of enlistees for the battery.

Guard officials explain that the age limitations are 17 to 35, and that when the number of men equals the lowest required total an anti-aircraft until will be organized.

The council Monday night voted to establish an armory somewhere on the Community Park site which is bounded by Madison, Roosevelt, Dickey and Quartz.

MEN at WORK all along the line!



Thousands of men are at work on scores of projects throughout Northern and Central California in this company's $350,000,000 expansion program to meet the future needs of this area for electricity and gas.

Some of the major projects in this construction program are:

KERN STEAM PLANT—A new $25,620,000 steam-operated powerhouse near Bakersfield to generate 235,000 horsepower of electricity.

MIDWAY SUBSTATION—A $10,300,000 project, including a 212-mile transmission line and a switching station to bring 220,000-volt power from Sierra hydroelectric plants to the Southern San Joaquin Valley.

MORAGA SUBSTATION—A $7,200,000 substation and transmission line project to bring 250,000 additional horsepower of electricity to the power pool serving Contra Costa and Alameda Counties.

MISSION STATION—A new $6,400,000 substation and two transmission circuits to augment the power supply of the San Francisco metropolitan area.

STATION "P" STEAM PLANT, SAN FRANCISCO—A $23,700,000 project that will increase the electric generating capacity of the present plant at Hunters Point from 62,000 horsepower to 360,000 horsepower.

ELECTRA AND WEST POINT POWERHOUSES—Two new powerhouses costing $19,600,000 with a combined generating capacity of 154,000 horsepower on the Mokelumne River.

ROCK CREEK AND CRESTA POWERHOUSES—Two new hydro plants on the North Fork of the Feather costing $61,800,000 and having a combined generating capacity of 270,000 horsepower.

This is the biggest construction job the P. G. and E. has ever undertaken and work is being accelerated as fast as materials and manufactured electric equipment are delivered. So far we are right on schedule to have the vast job done in 1951.

Diary of Barbara, our newest operator

"First day at work . . . and I wasn't a bit nervous! I thought I would be, but the girl who is teaching me was perfectly wonderful. I practiced on a special board with one other girl and we had a lot of fun laughing about our mistakes. The work is interesting . . . and I'm paid regular wages while in training.

"I met lots of friendly girls in our comfortably-furnished lounge . . . that's where we get acquainted and enjoy refreshments during leisure periods. All the girls I've met seem to feel that being a telephone operator isn't just another job . . . they say it's a real opportunity for a girl to do helpful, important work that benefits everyone in town.

"I'll get three raises the first year, then a week's paid vacation . . . two weeks after two years. I know I'm going to love my job." . . . We want you to enjoy your job, Barbara. You'll have the security of sickness benefits and a fine pension plan, too. And it's important work—the life of the community and of the country flows through your magic switchboard.

New Working Dollars . . . Millions of new dollars needed to build buildings and buy new equipment to meet the public demand for more telephones and more service do not come from telephone bills. New dollars come from people who are willing to put their savings into the business. We must earn enough to attract these new working dollars.

Quarantine Extended For 6 Months

Two persons were bitten by pets Wednesday even as Dr. Charles C. Gans, the county health director, announced that the animal quarantine will be in effect for at least six months.

In both of the cases the animals will be impounded to determine whether they will develop rabies.

Three-year-old Vetty Lou Williams, 915 Hobart St., Menlo Park, was treated by a private physician after she was bitten on the lip by a crocker spaniel. The health department reported that the dog is owned by Ed Silva, 936 Olive St., Menlo Park.

The other person was bitten on the ankle by her own cat. She is Mrs. Esther Rossetti, 53, of 602 South Grant St., San Mateo. Mrs. Rosseti was treated at Community Hospital.

Both of the cases occurred Wednesday morning.

Dr. Gans said that the state health department requires that when a quarantine is imposed it must remain in effect for a minimum of six months. That is the incubation period for rabies, he said.

The health director reiterated his warning that all dogs and cats must be kept on the property of the owner and may not be taken for a walk even on a leash.

The dogs must be kept tied up, or penned in such a way that they can not escape, the doctor declared.

Dr. Gans imposed the quarantine, which covers all of San Mateo County, after a San Bruno woman was bitten by a rabid dog. Another dog, which was killed on San Francisco water property by a reservoir keeper, was examined at the University of California and found to be not diseased, Dr. Gans said.

Dog Shot to Death In Rabies Check

A dog believed to be rabid was shot and killed Sunday by a San Francisco Water Dept. reservoir keeper who sought safety from the animal on top of his car.

The dog was slain by E. R. Bottmore, 53, about 200 yards from his cottage near the San Andreas reservoir west of San Bruno.

San Mateo police reported today the case of another dog bite, and health officials were checking whether the dog had rabies.

The man bitten was Carmel Fala, 1217 B St., San Mateo. The dog was being walked at the end of a leash by his owner, Lawrence F. Schmitt, 1209 Palm Ave., who was ordered to keep the animal confined on his property for the duration of the quarantine.

San Mateo County Chief Sanitarian W. Emerson Smith declared that Bottimore and his 13-year-old son, Roderick, had driven to a corral near the house and had left the car when they noticed a small black mongrel running around in circles.

The dog, which Bottimore said had the "blind staggers," was frothing at the mouth and bumping into tree stumps. As the animal dashed toward the automobile, Bottimore and his son climbed to the top of the car, from where the reservoir keeper shot the animal with a .45 caliber pistol.

Smith said that the dog's head has been sent to the University of California for examination and in the meantime inspectors are checking the area near the reservoir to see whether other dogs have been bitten.

Bottimore's dogs were tied up, as required by the county quarantine, and were not approached by the sick animal.

The quarantine was imposed by the county health department after a San Bruno woman was bitten by a rabid dog. Smith today reiterated the necessity of keeping dogs tied up for the duration of the quarantine.

3 Persons Hurt In 2-Car Collision

Three persons were injured late Monday in a collision between two cars at the intersection of Skyline Blvd. and Sneath Ln. west of San Bruno.

The injured were John F. Henderson, 31, a San Jose auto parts salesman; a passenger in his car, Mildred Mullens, 30, of San Jose, and Rudolph I. Johnson, 55 Belmont painter, who was driving a pickup truck. The injured were treated at South San Francisco Hospital.

The California Highway Patrol reported that Henderson's car, which was southbound, crossed to the wrong side of the highway, and Johnson swung to the left in an attempt to avoid an accident. However, the officers said that Henderson returned to his own lane and the two cars collided.

GARDEN: 'Diamond Jubilee' Introduced by Old Firm

BY ROLLY LANGLEY

Among the flowers entered in the Rollingwood Garden Club show were cosmos, pansies, begonias, asters, dahlias, marigolds, roses, fuchsias, petunias and chrysanthemums. I wonder how many of these are up to show standards in your garden.

Diamond Jubilee, top honor winner in the All-America Rose Selections of 1948, was introduced by Jackson & Perkins of Newark, New York and Pleasanton, Calif. They named it in honor of their 75th year in the business.

That's a long time to be in any business, and especially the nursery business. Back in 1868, there was a lot of excitement in these United States. (Why do I have to look these things up? You'd think the publicity departments of businesses would dream up a few things, too.) That was the year that Andrew Johnson, who had been president ever since Lincoln was assassinated, was impeached. (He was not booted out, however. Opponents couldn't get the necessary two-thirds vote.) And it was in 1868 that Ulysses Simpson Grant was elected.

If you figure things out for yourself as you read along, you've already said a few ho hums, because 75 years from 1947 takes you back to 1872 — not '68. Well, that's the year Grant was reelected, 1872. Anyway, it's nice that the Diamond Jubilee won the All-America honors this year.

When the rose "Peace" won top honors a couple of years back, all authorities agreed it was the "dream rose" of the decade. It looks now like it named after a . . . dream, too.

Diamond Jubilee is profuse, giving up to 40 blooms a season, of a golden orange color. It does well in California.

If you're buying the floribunda type rose Pinocchio this season, be sure to specify which you want — Pinocchio is a salmon gold, while the Red Pinocchio is a brilliant carmine.

Eva M. Stodden of San Leandro and Media Dahl of Palo Alto have about the same question. As M. D. puts it: "Twice lately I have noticed a mention in your column of a compost heap. I gather that this is a pile of vegetable matter saved from one's own yard for the purpose of returning the humus to the soil. How is this done? When I make a pile of dry leaves they remain as dry leaves without rotting."

I've written on compost so many times in this column, I'm going to give you the words of Edward D. Eickhof, a Chicago authority. Maybe a change of words on compost will do us all good. Not that compost isn't an important subject. It's of prime interest to the progressive greenthumber. If we can't get it all in today, we'll carry over tomorrow, and thus give the full treatment. Says E. P. E.:

"Compost is a kind of manure, made up of a variety of fermented or decomposed materials, or refuse matter, adaptable to use as a fertilizer. It may be composed of some or all of the following ingredients:

"Manure, mushroom soil, straw, leaves, lawn clippings, vegetable refuse, peat moss, sod, rubbish, etc., and topsoil, muck or sand.

"It is an excellent source of humus, and the best "filler" or base to use in the distribution of commercial fertilizers.

"The object in making or keeping a compost pile is to make use of all refuse, vegetable matter, manures, etc., and to have on hand a source of top-dressing highly valuable as an organic fertilizer, used to improve the mechanical condition of the soil.

"It may be used to fertilize flower beds, trees, shrubs, etc., and is invaluable as a top-dressing for lawns; especially for turf which is thin and poor or coarse, and which covers soil which is (1) excessively light, (2) excessively heavy, or (3) which contains an excess of decayed vegetable matter.

"Grass does not like overabundance of any one ingredient in the soil, and by means of top-dressings, it is possible eventually to correct such a condition as far as the uppermost layer of soil is concerned."

The above quote from Eickhof's article in the Garden Dictionary will be continued tomorrow. If you don't have a compost heap working now, study this piece, and make a bin to hold the organic refuse from your garden. Compost is the opposite of gold, which is where you find it. Compost is where you make it. But it's good as gold for your garden.

Marital Troubles Lead to Suicide

A former Millbrae man shot and killed himself Sunday night as a result of marital troubles, the sheriff's office reported Monday.

The body of Benjamin F. Siegle, 47, assistant sales manager of Pacific Coast Aggregates Inc., was found at 2:30 this morning in a car parked on La Honda Rd., about 2½ miles east of La Honda.

Chief Dep. Sheriff Walter Moore said that Siegle had been shot through the temple with a .32 caliber rifle bullet. He had been dead about six hours when found by Leo McCowan, a La Honda special patrolman.

According to Moore, Siegle and his wife, Esther, separated last July. Siegle sold his home at 1410 Hillcrest Dr., Millbrae, and had been living with relatives at 522 Pope St., North Palo Alto.

Siegle had been attempting to effect a reconciliation with his wife, who had moved with their 8-year-old son, Tommy, to La Honda. Siegle took the boy Friday to stay with him during the weekend and returned him to the mother Sunday night.

Moore said Mrs. Siegle told him that they discussed reconciliation last night but no decision was reached. Siegle evidently shot himself, Moore declared, shortly after he left his family at 8:30 p.m.

$400 Fire Loss On Hopkins Ave.

A house fire which caused $400 worth of damage to the home of F. G. Sturges 1790 Hopkins Ave., was extinguished Tuesday at 5:15 p.m. by Redwood City firemen.

Dep. Chief Willis Leslie said today that the fire started when a gas heater ignited bedding. Walls, he continued, were badly scorched and windows cracked before the blaze was extinguished.

Visitor From Ireland Honored At Party Given by Mrs. Pfafflin

Mrs. James Dowlin of Belfast, Ireland was the guest of honor at a party given recently by Mrs. W. H. Pfafflin of 1304 Whipple Ave. Mrs. Dowlin is visiting here with her sister, Mrs. S. F. Wisnom of Oakdale Ave.

Assisting Mrs. Pfafflin with the party arrangements were Mrs. David McCullough, Mrs. Albert Watson and Mrs. Henry Caldwell.

Albert Watson gave a resume of his recent trip to London, Miss Jean Gaunt played piano selections and Mr. and Mrs. Elwayne Laurence played several violin duets to entertain their fellow guests.

Among those invited to meet the visitor from Ireland were: Mr. and Mrs. David McCullough, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Watson, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Shappard, Mrs. Robert Wisnom, Mrs. William Wisnom, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Watson, Mr. and Mrs. John Caldwell, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Caldwell, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Amaral and son, Albert, Mrs. B. Gaunt and daughter, Jean, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Caldwell and son Ernest and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Caldwell, all of San Mateo, Mr. and Mrs. William Caldwell and children of San Jose, Norman Mellow of Merced, Mr. and Mrs. George Hammel and sons of San Francisco and Mr. and Mrs. Elwayne Laurence of Redwood City.

Meatless Tuesday? Well, Almost

Two of three Redwood City service clubs which met on President Truman's first "meatless Tuesday" observed the meatless fare. The other dined on meat.

At the Three Owls the Optimists Club ate chicken salad. At Ramor Oaks at noon the Rotary Club dined on cream chicken.

At the same restaurant that evening the Exchange Club was served veal cutlets.

Speaker at the Exchange Club was Gordon Wood, chief inspector, western division, U. S. Food & Drug Administration. He was introduced by Carl Brennan.

Local BPWC Celebrates Business Women's Week

Thirty-four members and guests of the Business and Professional Women's Club, Redwood City Club, gathered at Ramor Oaks on Saturday afternoon to honor National Business Women's Week, which is being celebrated Oct. 5 to 11.

The luncheon followed the singing of a proclamation by Mayor W. W. Hilton, which started in part "I ask the people of Redwood City to join me in extending their cooperation in honoring the Business and Professional Women of our community."

Mrs. Ruth Barrett, president of the local club presided over the luncheon. Mrs. Lauretta Hodge was chairman of the day, assisted by Vivian Stimson, Jessie Choate and Lucille Nicolato.

Some of the honored guests attending the meeting were Dr. Gladys Shutt of Palo Alto, Bay District president of BPWC; Mrs. Nell Green Barber Galvin of Palo Alto who is a member of the board of trustees of the BPWC; Irene Peterson, of the Zonta Club; Miss Adelaid Witzke of the Redwood City BPWC, representing Pres. Katherine Fitzpatrick of the National Secretary's Assn.; Mrs. Alice Hunt of the Redwood City BPWC, president of the Credit Women's Breakfast Club; Mrs. Thelma Eberhardt of the Redwood City BPWC, state treasurer of the BPWC; and Miss Lelah Butts of the Redwood City BPWC, state membership chairman.

Dr. Shutt gave a short talk on the activities in the Bay District for National Business Week and urged members to attend.

A mock radio quiz was one of the main events of the luncheon and members were questioned about activities of the club. Mrs. Barrett, Mrs. Hodge and Mrs. Catherine Brennan, news chairman, were featured in the program. Mrs. Margaret Gall led the community singing.

Those present heard the statement issued by Miss Sally Butler, president of the National and International Business and Professional Women's Clubs. Miss Butler said, "Keep alert to the times, use your privileges well and work for a greater understanding and more effective handling of your responsibilities."

Local business and professional women will hold their regular board and business meeting on Wednesday evening at the Moose Hall, 826 Arguello St. The board meeting will begin at 7 p.m. and the business meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m.

RC Nurse Asks $40,186 Damages

Margo M. Meredith, a registered nurse who lives at 640 Woodside Rd., Wednesday filed suit in superior court for $40,186 damages for injuries she sustained in an automobile accident on Dec. 18, 1946.

Miss Meredith filed suit against Howard T. Lisher, the driver of a panel truck owned by the Currie Manufacturing Co., which also is named a defendant.

The accident was at Fair Oaks and 5th Avenues, North Fair Oaks. Miss Meredith suffered a spine injury, concussion and various cuts and bruises.

$5000 Blaze At Pan-Am Base

A $5000 blaze early Wednesday completely destroyed the fabric room, housed in a two-story building of Pan American World Airways at the International Airport.

Alexander (Al) Welte, South San Francisco fire chief, said the fire was put out by his men before it spread to the remaining rooms in the building.

The fire, which started in the office adjoining the fabric room, was of unknown origin. The watchman, the only man on the premises, gave the alarm.

Equipment destroyed consisted of parachutes, belts, cabin seats and other upholstery. The rest of the building, a wood frame structure, was not damaged.

News of Commuters

BY LOCOMOTIVE BILL

TRANSPORTATION — The Transportation Committee of the Redwood City Commuters Club headed by Al Armitage recently invited commuter members to comment on rail, bus and street car transportation and offer any criticisms or suggestions which in their opinion would improve service for their fellow commuters. Mr. Armitage in his letter to commuters stated that any constructive suggestions received would be taken up with the train or bus management through the club.

Many of the suggestions are deserving of repetition in the column and to start the open season on "pop offs," a term used by the committee chairman, we quote in part from a letter received from Gustave Chevassus: "Having received your announced declaration of open season for "pop offs" on our commuter transportation problems, I take pleasure in submitting some of the irritating derelictions in our transportation service that I have observed and which your committee may find of sufficient merit for consideration:

1. Locomotive engineers should observe the railroad rule that prohibits the passing of a stopped train at a passenger depot. Observe northbound Train No. 149 at 5:54 p.m. pull into Redwood City station before southbound No. 134 has departed. The discharged passengers awaiting to cross over the tracks behind the moving southbound are startled out of their composure by a shrill whistle from the oncoming northbound only a few feet away.

2. The last seats to be occupied on the commuter trains are the ones located directly under those silly revolving ceiling ventilators. The reason, of course, is obvious as cold outside air forced down upon you is not only uncomfortable but induces sneezing and brings about a cold in the head. Has it not occurred to the eminent engineers of our "Friendly Southern Pacific" that warm foul air rises to the ceiling and for proper ventilation should be removed by the simple expediency of reversing the vanes of the revolving fans.

3. Considerable time is consumed in the purchase of monthly interurban commutation tickets at the home town depot, particularly on the first day of the month when purchasers must stand in line at the limited number of ticket windows.

Personal checks for the exact amount of the commutation ticket are readily accepted at the depot wicket, the agent inscribing the serial number of the ticket thereon, but this same procedure could be followed by the train conductor who would issue the monthly ticket with no loss of time to the commuter or the railroad employe.

If the accepted personal check on the following day proved to have "bounced," the numbered ticket would be picked up the following day by the informed conductor. This service should not be offered to commuters who offer cash and expect change which of course would be impractical and cause delay in the routine of punching tickets by the train crew."

We might add in connection with Mr. Chevassus' first criticism that this rule has been violated on a number of occasions during the morning hours when freight trains have come through the station going south while commuters were attempting to board a San Francisco bound train. We have seen several narrow escapes from serious injury to commuters as a result of this dangerous practice.

Another letter from Commuter Ellis Moody has this to say: "My pet 'gripe' is the 'Muni' service furnished to meet Train No. 128 arriving at 3rd and Townsend Sts. at 7:43 a.m. Second and Market Car No. 41 is consistently from three to five minutes late. This not only causes loss of time but the 100 to 150-foot lines of people cause no end of congestion in the depot. I would appreciate it if this thought could be caried to the 'Muni' officials with the suggestion that the schedules be arranged so that the No. 41 car will be waiting when the train arrives in San Francisco. All other service is excellent."

Serve Whisky, End Brawls: Claim

The serving of wines, beer and whisky was suggested to city councilmen Monday night as a means of keeping down brawls at the notorious Lola Cafe, previously known as the Two Friends Cafe.

The Two Friends site has been the scene of some strenuous arguments, the last being the slugging of proprietor Giessippe (Joe) Tamperani, 62, who was struck three times June 15 with a blunt object so hard that a piece of bone was lodged in his brain.

Following that incident, councilmen again revoked a restaurant license for the spot and as a consequence it was closed.

Last night, Mrs. Olivia Nardelli appeared before the council. She said that Tamperani had invested some $2000 in the cafe but that now he was a San Mateo County ward because of the slugging and that he owed at least $2000 to Franklin and Community Hospitals where he was treated.

Councilman W. M. (Bill) Werder gently asked what the chances were of keeping down brawls in the Five Points spot, pointing out the cafe in the past had been a headache to councilmen as well as to Tamperani.

Mrs. Nardelli said the reason there had been brawls was that that there was no place in the area for "colored" people to drink whisky. If she reopened the spot, she continued, she would serve whisky and furnish area residents with "recreation center."

Council referred the suggestion to the police, health and fire departments for recommendations.

LINDA DARNELL

For her role of Amber in Twentieth Century-Fox's Technicolor production of "Forever Amber," Miss Darnell dyed her hair an ash "Amber" blonde and changed herself drastically. But, she says, it was worth it to get the most sought after role in screen history. Virtually every actress in the United States and Great Britain was considered for the part, and many of them were tested before Miss Darnell was selected by Darryl F. Zanuck for the coveted role.

Shooting at Buses Opens Investigation Along Peninsula

Jittery Greyhound bus drivers the length of the Peninsula were on the lookout Wednesday for a two-tone green sedan on the heels of a reported shooting, the second in five days.

The California Highway Patrol in San Jose reported that the windshield of a northbound bus was cracked, apparently by a shot, Tuesday afternoon on El Camino Real near Santa Cruz Hwy., Sunnyvale.

Sgt. John Sansone said that he had been told that the driver, W. R. Ingram, 25, of San Francisco, claimed that a shot was fired from an oncoming car, which, passed the bus at high speed.

The windshield of the bus was struck directly in front of the driver, but the missile did not penetrate the ¾-inch glass.

The bus swerved to the shoulder of the highway, but the driver brought it under control. He stopped at a nearby restaurant and telephoned the dispatcher at San Jose, who reported to police.

Thirty passengers were on the bus, but did not obtain the car's license number, nor the number of men in the vehicle.

The car was described as a two-toned green Buick sedan, similar to the one from which another shot was alleged to have been fired at a bus last Saturday night.

In the earlier shooting, the bullet hit the windshield in front of the driver's face. The incident occurred near Mills Field on Bayshore Hwy. and the sedan was reported to have passed the bus at high speed, going in the same direction.

Sgt. Sansone said that Tuesday he stopped about a half-dozen cars answering the sedan's description. Service stations and bars along El Camino Real also were checked, without result. The CHP issued an all-points radio warning for Peninsula police officers to be on the lookout for the car.

Meanwhile, Pacific Greyhound Lines officials were minimizing the incident, claiming that in each case the missile was a rock tossed up from the highway by a passing car's tires.

J. W. Krug, division manager, said that he examined the bus involved Tuesday. The cracked windshield could have resulted from either a rock or a small piece of metal kicked up by a car, he said.

"The drivers are all keyed up," he said. "Ingram couldn't see any gun and we are inclined to believe that it was caused by a rock."

He said that the company was not involved in any labor troubles and could give no reason why any person should want to shoot at a bus. He also pointed out that personal grievances were ruled out, since a different driver was involved in each incident.

"Since this second incident was reported, we have had other drivers call us about having had trouble with green sedans," Krug continued.

"One driver called to report some trouble in Burlingame, and another called from Santa Cruz to tell of trouble near Los Gatos three weeks ago."

Krug did not elaborate as to what type of "trouble" the drivers mentioned.

The grapevine among drivers often spread news faster than official communication, he added, and he is sure that the men will report any further incident. He said that the company was taking no special precautions since the grapevine will have spread word of the incidents.

"I know the boys will be on the lookout," he said.

The drivers travel the highways so much that they get somewhat nervous at the rumors of shootings, Krug explained, blaming the power of suggestion.

Greyhound officials said that the driver Ingram is a comparatively new employe. He has worked for the company for two and a half months. Ingram also is an army veteran, having served from 1940 to 1945.

Peninsulans Rally Behind Meatless Plan

Leaders of the San Mateo retail meat industry, now selling beef at the nation's lowest prices in a widely-publicized "price war," predicted whole-hearted support prom President Truman's proposed meatless Tuesday.

Earl F. Schmidt, Burlingame, secretary of the dealer's assn. said the group would meet Monday, Oct. 13, he said he believed the voluntary cut in meat consumption to aid the nation's export program would be well-received.

In another industry vital to the food-conservation program, Theodore Prineas, head of the San Mateo County Restaurant Owners Assn., said a meeting of the association would be called this week to determine the course of action here.

Prineas said he felt sure local restaurants would cooperate.

His statement followed announcement in San Francisco by Pres. John W. Ebersole that the National Restaurant Assn. would cooperate with the program by observing meatless Tuesdays and by serving no poultry or eggs on Thursdays.

Edwin F. Michelsen, business agent of AFL Butchers Local 516, said "meatless Monday" would have been better, both for the industry and its employes.

Michelsen said the union's International Executive Board is now in session in San Francisco and probably will announce its approval of the presidential plan today or tomorrow.

Both leaders said there was a lowering of quality in the beef cuts being featured in the competitive war that has brought national attention to San Mateo County.

Michelsen said that despite the lower quality of the steaks and roasts on the market last Friday and Saturday for 59 cents and 55 cents, the prices were below costs, which run from 75 to 80 cents a pound.

Michelsen did not say the union would renew its proposal to close markets on Monday, but suggested it might be more economical to operators.

He said butchers from New York and other Eastern cities had seen pictures of San Mateo meat markets advertising steaks at 59 cents and were asking, "How can they do it?"

Hit-Run Driver Escapes Arrest

A hit-run driver was chased and cought Sunday night by an accident witness but escaped while police were being called.

The California Highway Patrol reported that a car driven by M. W. Dreyfuss, 68, 132 Colton Ave., San Carlos, was sideswiped by another car which crossed the center lane of El Camino Real near Junipero Serra Blvd.

The witness, whose name was not given, chased the car, forced it to the curb, but the driver escaped when the witness went into a restaurant to telephone police.

Officers Monday were checking the registration of the 1936 coupe. Dreyfuss was not hurt in the accident.

Too Curious, Man Lands in Jail

Irving E. Minahan, 35, of San Jose, who lists himself as a student, has some learning to do.

He has to learn that when he gets drunk, and drives a car, it isn't the thing to do to stop a policeman and ask if he's drunk.

Such a procedure landed Minahan in the county jail early Monday morning.

San Carlos Policeman Ed Bettencourt had stopped a car on El Camino Real between Belmont and White Oak Aves; when Minahan drove up, got out of his car, and according to Bettencourt, staggered toward him and asked the officer if he was drunk.

"No, are you?" Officer Bettencourt shot back.

"I'm drunker'n the dickens," Minahan replied.

And off to jail went Minahan on a charge of drunken driving. He was released on $250 bail. He is to appear Thursday before Judge Rupert Johnson.

Daly City Holdup Nets Bandit $35

Lena's Cafe in Daly City was the victim of a holdup man Tuesday night for the second time in less than four months.

Mrs. Lena Sereni, proprietress, told police a youth came into the cafe shortly before midnight as she was preparing to close the place, and demanded the contents of the cash register.

Mrs. Sereni said the man held his hand in his pocket as if he had a gun. Approximately $35 was taken.

The man, who answers the description of one of the two holdup men who robbed her June 22, is said to be between 18-20, 5 feet 10, and weighing 140 pounds, with a scar on his left cheek.

Woodside PTA Celebrates 21st Anniversary

The 21st birthday of the Woodside Parent Teacher Assn. was celebrated last week when the group met in the Woodside Scout Hall, with Mrs. James Cochran presiding.

Speakers of the day were Brooke P. Halsey, campaign manager for the Redwood City Community Chest, and William S. Herbig, school principal.

Mr. Halsey explained and named the various agencies of the Community Chest and spoke of the great need for donations at this time.

Mr. Herbig talked on school projects and safety. A short question and answer period followed with Mr. Herbig answering questions from PTA members about many different phases of their children's schooling.

Mrs. Arthur Gordon, parent education chairman, outlined several study courses to be undertaken throughout the year. Among them were first aid and home nursing.

During the social hour following the meeting incidental music was played by Mrs. John Baker on the violin, accompanied by Mrs. Clarence R. Smith.

Presiding at the tea table were Alexander Donald, hospitality chairman, assisted by Mmes. King Harris, William Lowe and Oscar Resch.

HELD ON DRUNK CHARGE

Joseph Philipson, 53, 817 Laurel Ave., San Carlos, was free from the county jail on $150 bail Monday following his arrest early yesterday morning on El Camino Real in Belmont on a charge of drunken driving. He is to appear Friday before Judge Rupert Johnson.

Will Written On Blank Check

A will, written on the face of a blank check, was on file Wednesday in superior court here.

The will was executed by Fred Heiniger, a partner in the Broadway Heating and Sheet Metal Works, Burlingame, on Aug. 2, one week before his death.

Mr. Heiniger wrote:

"I hereby leave everything I possess to my wife, Anna Heiniger, and she is to act as administrator without bond."

Atherton Yachtsman In Close Call

The Sarah Lee, 29-foot auxiliary sloop owned by Leland Spaulding, 47-year-old Atherton yachtsman, was reported out of danger and heading for Santa Barbara under its own power.

Tossed by heavy seas in his "home-built" boat, Spaulding reported by radio Tuesday: "We've had a rough time of it, but we're okay now. We expect to reach Santa Barbara tomorrow."

He was accompanied by his wife and 8-year-old son on a projected voyage to Honolulu.

Spaulding, who served as a major and communications expert for the army during the war, communicated with amateur radio operators ashore to describe his troubles.

First he talked to a Honolulu "ham" whose call letters were given as KH6FD and then to a Menlo Park operator whose identification is W6ZZ.

He told them that the worst appeared to be over and he was heading for the mainland.

The coast guard had dispatched a plane from San Francisco and a boat from Monterey to search the area 50 miles or more beyond the Farallon Islands. This action was taken after Spaulding radioed a distress signal picked up by another "ham" at Langley Field, Va., and relayed to the coast guard here.

For several months he planned the trip that all but came to grief Wednesday. He had hoped to complete the sloop in time to start the trip several weeks ago, before the stormy season. But he was delayed.

When work was finished on the boat, Spaulding stocked it with provisions for 30 days. He took along the family's Siamese cat.

Hadassah Plans Fall Tea Monday At Mrs. Rothmans

Peninsula Chapter of Hadassah will hold their Fall Tea on Monday at 1:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Nathan Rothman, 700 Chiltern Rd., Hillsborough.

Mrs. Mel K. Dollinger, chairman of the membership committee, has invited all members, their guests and any newcomers to the peninsula who are interested in the work of Hadassah to attend.

Mrs. Theodore Rosenberg of Redwood City, president, has asked members to attend the meeting, which will be held promptly at 1:30 to discuss recommendations from the board of directors regarding changes in policy of the National Hadassah. These changes must be taken care of before the next conference, Mrs. Rosenberg said.

Mrs. Jean Blum of San Mateo will be the guest speaker. Her topic will be current events and how they relate to Hadassah problems.

Mrs. Max Weinberg of San Mateo will read the invocation. Presidents of other peninsula organizations have been invited to serve at the tea tables.

Transportation arrangements may be made by phoning Mrs. Louis Gluskin at EM. 6-9185.

File Suit to Bar Negro Group

A San Mateo property owner has filed suit in superior court to prevent a Negro group from moving a war hospitality center building from his property.

The suit was filed by Max Kaufman against Mrs. Jessie Staton and the San Mateo Citizens Hospitality Committee.

100 Horses Threatened In County Fire

A fire apparently caused by spontaneous combustion early Tuesday morning destroyed 80 tons of hay and endangered more than 100 horses at the Palomar Stables near Skyline Blvd. west of Daly City.

Two trucks, one each from the county fire warden's station at Redwood City and Rockaway Beach, later in the day still were attempting to extinguish the fire but were hindered by lack of water.

The hay, valued at $3200, was stacked about 30 feet from the L-shaped barn which housed the horses. Also near the scene of the fire were a cookhouse and barracks which housed employes of the stables.

The county fire warden reported that the fire did no damage to the structures and was listed as under control although still burning. Since the horses did not see the flames, they did not become excited and they were kept in the stables.

Shot Fired at Bus Starts Probe

Peninsula police officers were searching during the weekend for three men who are believed to have fired a shot from a speeding car at a Greyhound bus.

The shooting occurred about 5 o'clock Saturday evening, according to Ben Nailon, a bus driver who lives at the Ideal Auto Court, Redwood City. He reported the incident to Redwood City Dispatcher W. O. Bastien and J. C. Schrepfer, passenger agent, who notified police.

According to Schrepfer, Nailon was driving a Redwood City bound bus in the inner lane of Bayshore Hwy. near Mills Field when a 1940 two-tone Buick sedan passed at a high rate of speed.

As the car passed the bus, a shot was fired by one of the three men, Nailon reported. The bullet struck the windshield a glancing blow and ricocheted.

The ⅜-inch safety glass was shattered, and Schrepfer said had the bullet gone through, it would have struck the driver between the eyes. The marks on the windshield indicated that the bullet was fired from a .22 or .25 caliber gun.

The bus was lightly loaded and eight passengers witnessed the incident. After stopping to ascertain the damage, Nailon continued the run to Redwood City.

Schrepfer said that the only explanation he could give for the incident is that the men in the car probably were drunk. An all points bulletin issued to officers failed to net the car.

Marriage Bids Show Decline

Fewer marriage licenses were issued in San Mateo County during September of this year than were in September of 1946, according to County Recorder T. C. Rice.

Last month 126 marriage licenses were handled by the county recorder's office compared to 188 in September a year ago.

Rice said that 5696 papers were handled by his office during September compared with 5009 in September, 1946. Fees totaling $12,750 were collected.

Forty-one service discharges were recorded last month, Rice said.
